Dam Cover—minimal wind load due to structure placement at ground level.

Protective canopies have numerous proven benefits and effects, such as:

- ◆ Microclimate modification
- ◆ Reduced evaporation & transpiration
- ◆ Reduced sunburn and wind damage
- ◆ Improved yields and quality
- ◆ Conservation of native wildlife; and
- ◆ Potential for organic production.

NetPro's service philosophy proudly delivers:

- ⚙ One-on-one engagement with the client to understand what is required and to design a structure to suit individual customer needs;
- ⚙ Extensive research and development;
- ⚙ Staff field knowledge and expertise;
- ⚙ Pride in our workmanship (1-year warranty) and products (up to 10-year pro-rata UV guarantee on nets).

Horticulture is not the only industry to benefit from protective canopies - NetPro has been involved in the development of technology in a number of growth industries, developing various protective structures for aquaculture, intensive livestock feedlots, worm farms, plant nurseries, vehicle yards, schools, kindergartens and domestic use—these include overhead structures, windbreaks and dam-covers.
